

How to recover an expired qualification

When any of the verified certifications is about to expire (2 months in advance) the service owner will receive (through email) a notification and can upload the new certification on the marketplace.

The certification can be renewed at any time, uploading a new VC validated by the DOME Trust Service Provider. If the certification is not re-newed by uploading a new VC the compliance profile will be automatically updated in the DOME platform. The service owner will get a notification about the new compliance level achieved by the service and this information will be updated in the Compliance Profile.
